PARLIAMENT
OF KENYA
LIBRARY

Nature Kenya – the East Africa Natural History Society – thanks you for the opportunity to comment on the Kenya Roads Bill 2017. Nature Kenya appreciates the Roads Bill for respecting the authority of Kenya Wildlife Service and Kenya Forest Service over the lands they administer. However, we note that there are sensitive areas of natural or cultural importance which do not yet have protected status.

Nature Kenya therefore recommends inserting sub-sections (12) and (13) under Section 48, as follows:

(12) Road works referred to in sub-section (1) shall not be carried out where they may endanger any rare or threatened species, wildlife migration, water sources or springs, or sites of cultural or natural importance.

(13) Roads or road works in sensitive areas of cultural or natural importance such as wetlands, indigenous forests and historic or pre-historic sites shall require an Environmental Impact Assessment, as per the EMCA subsidiary legislation 2016.

When the only feasible route for a road is to pass through protected areas, then migration corridors need to be respected and road kills by speeding cars avoided. Therefore we recommend inserting the following sub-section 14 in Section 48 as follows:

(14) Where it is unavoidable for roads to pass through protected areas, overpasses or underpasses to allow wildlife movement shall be built at frequent intervals (every 1 or 2 kilometers). In sections where there are no overpasses or underpasses, the road shall be fenced on both sides.

In the spirit of the Constitution, there is need to be able to seek redress from the courts. Therefore we recommend amending sub-section 4 under Section 48 by inserting "or any court of law" to read as:

If the owner or occupier of such land is aggrieved by the proposed exercise by the road authority of the powers conferred by this section or by the proposed exercise of the powers in the area specified in the notice, he may, within one month from the service upon him of the notice under subsection (3), make representations to the National Land Commission or any court of law thereon and shall within the same period inform the road authority concerned of the nature of such representations.

Nature Kenya would be happy to answer questions you may have or appear before a Senate committee to explain our position.

A short history of Nature Kenya is attached.

Sincerely

Dr Paul Matiku
Executive Director, Nature Kenya

Background information about Nature Kenya

Nature Kenya—the East Africa Natural History Society (EANHS)—is Africa's oldest environmental Society, established in 1909 to promote the study and conservation of nature in eastern Africa. We remain a non-political and not for profit membership Society. Our mission is connecting nature and people. Our work is firmly based on partnership, science and action. We use the best available science to inspire positive action for biodiversity by and for partners—Government, local communities and private sector.

Nature Kenya takes practical action. We work with and for people – to improve their quality of life alongside, and as a result of, nature conservation. We collaborate with others wherever possible, at local, national, regional or global levels, linking with community groups, governments, businesses, universities and civil society groups to increase the impacts of our efforts.

Some of our achievements include:

- Founded the National Museums of Kenya, now a world-renowned institution for research and education.
- Published, since 1910, the Journal of East African Natural History, a respected scientific journal now jointly produced with the National Museums.
- Established and maintained, with the National Museums of Kenya, a comprehensive natural history library.
- Engaged its members in the study, enjoyment and conservation of nature in Eastern Africa, through field trips, lectures, publications, and opportunities to take part in research activities since 1909.
- Identified and designated Important Bird Areas (IBAs) for Kenya, in collaboration with the National Museums; and documented the plants, animals and other biodiversity of Eastern Africa as a contribution to expanding the taxonomic scope of priority setting from IBAs to Key Biodiversity Areas (KBAs). Since IBAs are KBAs based on birds, they are today referred to as Important Bird and Biodiversity Areas.
- Encouraged and supported community-based organizations to become Site Support Groups (SSGs) promoting conservation and alternative livelihoods at Important Bird Areas, especially those without official protection status.
- Developed partnerships among Government and non-government organizations for sustainable conservation action at IBAs through the Important Bird Areas National Liaison Committee (IBA-NLC). We work with others in the development of policies, legislation and institutional frameworks that safeguard the ecological sustainability of IBAs in Kenya
- Mobilized resources to connect nature and people to take action for biodiversity conservation through development and implementation of donor funded projects at priority IBAs in Kenya.
- Work globally through the Birdlife International Partnership and its network of like-minded organizations in Eastern Africa and beyond in 117 countries and territories.
